ESTABLISHED A. D. 1878

VOLUME 46

CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1925

SIXTEEN PAGES TODAY

NO. 19

Cameron is paying to the insurance companies approximately $18,000 in penalties imposed by the Fire Insurance Commission because of excessive losses sustained in 1925. Not only has the arbitrary discretion of the insurance commission permitted the taking away of the 15 per cent good fire record which is computed on a three year basis but that same discretion has added another 15 per cent making the net increase in premium costs 30 per cent. Based on annual premiums of $60,000 the tribute to the insurance companies will be $18,000. Of course the premiums paid in 1926 may be less or more than this figure, but the cost will be in proportion to the volume written.

At the capital the other day a corporation was organized to combat the attempt of the insurance companies to increase their rates in Texas. It is estimated that if the proposed increase is granted the people of Texas will be called on to pay $6,000,000 annually in increased premiums to the insurance companies. In this movement chambers of commerce throughout the state have joined. The insurance companies declare their business is unprofitable unless they can get the increase. We do not believe the increase should be made and insurance payers everywhere should demand a curtailment of the exercise of power by the commission to grant increased rates. The penalties imposed are, in our opinion unjustified and the people should awaken to dangers of this arbitrary discretion. The system of rates and the powers of the commission to impose penalties should be cured. To continue this system of licensed imposition is to guarantee in unwarranted fashion the insurance companies against risk because it has been determined that at least two years and perhaps three will be required for Cameron to overcome the penalties imposed. In that period of time the insurance payers of Cameron will have contributed some $54,000. Based on a period of three years 1923, 1924 and 1925 the insurance payers in Cameron have paid about $20,000 in excess of the losses sustained in Cameron through fires.

The growing manifestation of opinion that fire insurance like life indemnities should be written on the individual hazard, is encouraging and in the stress of the injustice imposed by the arbitrary discretion of the commission there is a hopeful sign of an awakening on the part of the people to demand a change in the law which grants this pernicious imposition of higher rates. When the law was passed perhaps no one but the insurance companies and their representatives foresaw its workings. The people are gradually realizing that the law should be changed and insurance written on the hazard and not sustained by the whole. In other words an entire city should not be made to pay for the loss sustained by any insurance company on an individual risk. It seems the insurance companies are unwilling to take their chances of success in the varying economic fortunes that feature American business life and are now secure in state protection.

The shortage of invested industrial capital in Texas brings forcibly to attention the mistakes of past years in failure to properly encourage growth and development. The proposal now advanced in some quarters that industries be offered inducements by tax remission for a period of years is not without its merit and cities and towns may profit somewhat by offering such inducements. It is known that in many parts of American growth during the past two decades, policies such as this have been advantageously pursued by cities and towns. The growing conviction, especially in the strictly agricultural regions, that a one source revenue is inadequate to sustain the country, it is hoped will soon force the adoption of policies more friendly to industry.

Whatever criticism may have been justified in the assessment by public opinion of the successes or failure of the Highway Commission, it can be said with approval that the policy of the commission in concentrating largely on hard surfaced roads was sensible. It is hoped that the incoming administration will insist on a better character of roads and make it a demand that before the money of the tax payers is expended for roads that the character of construction must

OVER 3000 BALES NEW CROP COTTON GINNED IN CAMERON

Light Vote Is Cast In Race For Representative

SCHOOL TERM FOR 1926 WILL OPEN HERE MONDAY

COTTON YIELD PLACED AT 60,000 BY SOME

NEW COTTON COMING IN RAPIDLY AND GINS HUM PROSPERITY SONG

The gins are humming the song of prosperity.

Up to noon Thursday it was estimated by those in close touch with the ginnings that approximately 3000 bales of 1926 cotton had been ginned in Cameron.

When night came and the gins shut down the number of bales was well over this figure.

It was pleasing to note the changed atmosphere in business circles this week. Business men are beginning to feel the effects of the $200,000 contribution to the annual trade wealth.

Estimates on the cotton crop for Milam Co., now reach as high as 60,000 bales. Estimates continue to be made from 45,000 to 60,000 bales. Facts show that the crop is much better than expected and it will not be far from above normal production.

The price decline along with the government report has occasioned surprise. It was expected the price would go up on account of the lowered estimate of the 1926 crop but hopes are held for an ultimate increase.

GRANDI BROTHERS SHOW PLEASES CAMERON FOLKS

INTERESTING PROGRAM FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY SHOWS HERE

Beginning a week's engagement to Cameron people with "Extravagance" in three acts the Grandi Bros. stock company has pleased the people and at each performance has drawn big crowds.

The Catherine Calkins superb orchestra is a treat for music lovers and they have endeared themselves to the people of Cameron for their distinguished contribution to the program of entertainment that opens the fall and winter show season in Cameron.

The show is located on the Slocomb lots across from the Star Hotel. Ladies were admitted free on Monday night. The doors open at 7 o'clock and the curtain is pulled at 8. The orchestra begins its concert at 7:30. The show will be in the big comfortable tent for the remainder of the week.

Leland Green has been at Temple this week for treatment at a hospital for his teeth. Mr. Green suffered infection after removal of some teeth and has been suffering severely for the past week. His many friends here will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and will be back in Cameron in a few days.

be of some permanent nature. In the past experience has taught us that gravel roads are expensive and are more susceptible to damage by weather conditions than any other character of road. Counties situated like Milam where abundance of materials are handy can build gravel roads much cheaper than other counties. But despite this advantage the upkeep and maintenance is greater than is consistent with better policies. The hard surfaced roads must be constructed everywhere to meet the growing strain of increased traffic. The maintenance of roads in Milam County has been and is satisfactory but we need more hard surfaced roads and Our Town looks forward with hope that the policy of concentration on better roads will be taken up by the incoming administration.

FERGUSON SAYS KLAN DOMINATES CONVENTION

CONGRATULATES MOODY ON FLING AT KLAN BUT SAYS IT COMES TOO LATE

Austin, Texas, Sept. 8.—Trouble seems to have been outstanding feature of "this awful state convention just adjourned," James E. Ferguson said Wednesday in a formal statement.

He charged that most of the new state executive committee are "Ku Klux or of known Ku Klux affiliations, notably among whom are J. W. Sullivan of Denton and W. L. Thornton of Dallas, former titans of their respective provinces in Texas."

He commended Dan Moody, gubernatorial nominee, for denouncing the Ku Klux Klan, but said his action came too late.

"Mr. Moody says he is now against the Ku Klux, but when the governor was fighting the Ku Klux before the people and I was denouncing their activities in this campaign, Mr. Moody said that I was using a last year's bird nest for an issue in this campaign and he said in the campaign that the Ku Klux question was settled. I am just wondering if he believed he was right then, why didn't he tell the convention that they were talking about a last year's bird nest when they put a plank in the platform condemning secret societies in politics. Ma Ferguson can now say, 'I told you so' upon one proposition at least."

"There was a big row in the caucus before the convention met over the selection of a temporary chairman and trouble seemed to be the outstanding feature of this awful state convention just adjourned. I wonder what is it all going to lead to anyway. The people are holding their breath for the next act."

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 8.—Severe criticism of the democratic state convention for not specifically denouncing the Ku Klux in its platform was made here today by R. B. Creager, republican national committee-man.

"After all the propaganda that was put out about the severity of terms in which the klan would be denounced, the platform plank adopted was disappointing, to say the least," he declared.

When asked what action the republican convention at Dallas had taken with reference to the klan, Creager said it had condemned secret societies of all kinds without specifically naming any one organization.

"We don't boast, however, that we were going to pan the klan," Creager said, "while the democrats did."

The faculty this year is unusually strong and Mr. Fisher declares the school will show great progress.

PENNSYLVANIA TIRE STORE OPENS SAT.

PENNSYLVANIA TIRES HANDLED BY OLD CAMERON RESIDENT

DAN REITERATES HIS STAND AGAINST KLAN

PLATFORM SILENT ON ORDER
BUT NOMINEE MAKES PLAIN
HIS OPPOSITION

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 8.—Democrats of Texas returned home today after concluding a state convention that was harmonious throughout except for last night's furore over the seating of W. L. Thornton of Dallas as member of the executive committee.

The expected pyrotechnics over the Ku Klux Klan failed to materialize because the platform as presented on the convention floor had all reference to that order stricken out.

In a plank offered to the sub-committee of the committee on resolutions and platform, members of the Klan were asked to withdraw and abandon the order in Texas. As adopted by the convention, however, this plank merely scored interference in public affairs by secret societies.

There was no protest over the platform made in the convention proper nor any debate.

The convention adjourned before midnight after Dan Moody was placed in nomination for governor by John Boyle of San Antonio. Moody's acceptance was brief. He declared enemies sought to dodge the real issues of the campaign by raising the Ku Klux Klan issue.

"They sought to draw away the minds of the people from the issues of honesty and efficiency which were the real ones," he said. "They thought I would have the cowardice not to declare myself upon that issue. But I want to say now that I believe it to be a fundamental doctrine of free government, that Jew, Gen, file, Catholic and Protestant are entitled to equal opportunity and equal protection under the laws of this state."

"I have declared myself before and have been active and outspokenly opposed to the participation of secret societies in politics. I am still opposed to it."

"The democrats have shown they want a responsible government administered with honesty and efficiency."

cy. I pledge myself now to do my part toward that end to keep the face of the administration always turned toward the people.

The name of the Klan was deleted from resolutions, it was said, after klansmen delegates threatened to insist that the name of the Knights of Columbus be inserted also if the Ku Klux Klan were mentioned specifically.

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 8.—Dan Moody, in a statement Wednesday, said the ommittee on platform and resolutions for the democratic convention did not use the plank on the Ku Klux Klan that he proposed. In his plank he stated that "the existence of the Ku Klux Klan in Texas," has introduced a question dangerous to free government "into politics of this state to the injury of Texas and the embarrassment of her people."

Moody "said the sub-committee, which was composed entirely of men who were sincere in their opposition to the Klan and had at all times been outspoken on their attitude, wanted the platform to express opposition and voted unanimously for the choice of expression used in the plank as finally adopted and it was unanimously adopted by this committee on platform."

The platform adopted mentioned secret societies but not the Klan.

"There was no fight on the floor over this matter because the platform expressed opposition to the Klan and the fight would have amounted only to a 'contest over a choice of words,'" Moody said.

ED. WESTBROOK SAYS COTTON CROP IS GOOD AROUND BEN ARNOLD

Ed. Westbrook, public weigher of Beat 7 says the cotton crop around Ben Arnold is better than any yield in recent years, in his judgment and he expects to weigh at least 2500 bales in the bent this year.

Mr. Westbrook was nominated and elected public weigher in 1924 but the crop failure of 1925 kept him from realizing any profit from his office and his friends this year hope he will make up for the losses he has taken.

At first reports from the uplands led local cotton men to believe the crop will be short. The estimate of Mr. Westbrook is encouraging. Mr. Westbrook will give the farmers of that beat the best of service this year and is to be congratulated on his interest in the work of weigher.

G. W. Weathersbee of the Fox community was a Cameron visitor Saturday and a very pleasant caller at the Herald office.

15,166,000 BALE
CROP IS FORECAST

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
REPORTS CONDITIONS 59.6
PER CENT OF NORMAL

Washington, Sept. 8.—A cotton crop of 15,166,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight is indicated by the Sept. 1 condition which was 59.6 per cent of a normal, the department of agriculture announced today.

If developments during the remainder of the season are as unfavorable to the crop as in the three years of greatest decline in the last ten a total production of about 14,104,000 bales might be expected, the crop reporting board announced, but should conditions be as favorable as during the three years of greatest subsequent improvement an output of about 16,000,000 bales is possible.

The preliminary estimate of abandonment of acreage for the season on the basis of September 1 was placed at 1,691,000 acres, or 3.5 per cent of the 48,989,000 acres in cultivation on June 25, leaving for harvest this season 47,297,000 acres.

The September 1 condition indicates a yield of 153.6 pounds per acre, as compared with 154.6 pounds a fortnight ago and 167.2 pounds the final yield last year.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

ON HOUSEHOLD BUDGETS

"Aunt Emmy," asked Helen, "won't you explain what is meant by a household budget? You said something the other day about budgets, but I don't seem clear in my mind about it."

"A budget is simply a plan," said Aunt Emmy. "You plan what you are going to do with your income. You divide your income systematically so that you can meet your needs. You lay aside a part of your income for rent, other parts for food, clothing, heat, light, telephone, recreation, savings and so on."

"How are you going to know how much you should spend for each thing—on rent for instance, Aunt?" asked Helen.

"Experts have studied the question carefully and have worked out budgets to suit every income. Of course, you can alter these typical budgets slightly to suit your particular needs. For example, the average budget that covers incomes of from $2,000 to $10,000 a year divides your income into six parts. Ten per cent for savings, twenty per cent for rent, twenty per cent for food, twenty per cent for what is called betterment and includes education, amusement, entertainment, books, music, sports; fifteen per cent for clothes and fifteen per cent for operating expenses."

"No matter how you change the other items you must not change the savings allowance—except to increase it. A great majority of men who reach sixty are dependent on relatives or charity. If they had saved only ten cents out of every dollar, they would not have been in that plight. There is nothing like money in the savings bank to help you through the emergencies that come in everybody's life. If everybody kept one year's income in the savings bank, much misery would be averted. If you always have enough money to see you through one year, you are pretty safe. Beyond that, it is wise to let your money accumulate until you have enough to buy some good securities. Your banker will advise you about the securities that suit your needs."

"But, Aunt Emmy, suppose you wanted to alter your budget?" inquired Helen. "How would you know how to do it? A young married couple might start on a certain budget and then, when they had children to feed and educate, they might want to change it."

"Well, my dear, if they were in doubt about their financial affairs, they could always consult their banker. That is why it is so good to establish friendly relations with a bank when you start out in life. Any banker will be glad to advise young people about making their money go farther."

—A. B. Aymes.

DAN REITERATES HIS STAND AGAINST KLANPLATFORM SILENT ON ORDER
BUT NOMINEE MAKES PLAIN
HIS OPPOSITION

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 8.—Democrats of Texas returned home today after concluding a state convention that was harmonious throughout except for last night's furor over the seating of W. L. Thornton of Dallas as member of the executive committee.

The expected pyrotechnics over the Ku Klux Klan failed to materialize because the platform as presented on the convention floor had all reference to that order stricken out.

In a plank offered to the sub-committee of the committee on resolutions and platform, members of the Klan were asked to withdraw and abandon the order in Texas. As adopted by the convention, however, this plank merely scored interference in public affairs by secret societies.

There was no protest over the platform made in the convention proper nor any debate.

The convention adjourned before midnight after Dan Moody was placed in nomination for governor by John Boyle of San Antonio. Moody's acceptance was brief. He declared enemies sought to dodge the real issues of the campaign by raising the Ku Klux Klan issue.

"They sought to draw away the minds of the people from the issues of honesty and efficiency which were the real ones," he said. "They thought I would have the cowardice not to declare myself upon that issue. But I want to say now that I believe it to be a fundamental doctrine of free government, that Jew, Gen, tile, Catholic and Protestant are entitled to equal opportunity and equal protection under the laws of this state."

"I have declared myself before and have been active and outspokenly opposed to the participation of secret societies in politics. I am still opposed to it."

"The democrats have shown they want a responsible government administered with honesty and efficiency. I pledge myself now to do my part toward that end to keep the face of the administration always turned toward the people.

The name of the Klan was deleted from resolutions, it was said, after klansmen delegates threatened to insist that the name of the Knights of Columbus be inserted also if the Ku Klux Klan were mentioned specifically.

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 8.—Dan Moody, in a statement Wednesday, said the committee on platform and resolutions for the democratic convention did not use the plank on the Ku Klux Klan that he proposed in his plank he stated that "the existence of the Ku Klux Klan in Texas," has introduced a question dangerous to free government "into politics of this state to the injury of Texas and the embarrassment of her people."

Moody said the sub-committee, which was composed entirely of men who were sincere in their opposition to the Klan and had at all times been outspoken on their attitude, wanted the platform to express opposition and voted unanimously for the choice of expression used in the plank as finally adopted and it was unanimously adopted by this committee on platform.

The platform adopted mentioned secret societies but not the Klan.

NEW FURNITURE

The Cameron Furniture Company is receiving large shipments of furniture this week to make up the big stock that will greet the furniture buyers this year.

The store last year increased its display rooms and almost doubled the capacity of its stock. The store at Rockdale was closed out and the stock moved here.

James L. Coleman, Jr., is an expert store man, his display windows always attracting wide attention. The store looks forward to a good fall business. "My estimate of the cotton crop has been much higher than some who have placed estimated on it," said Mr. Coleman, Sr., "and I believe the business this fall will be good. We are anticipating the needs of the

Less Meat If Kidneys Bother

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats too much meat can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Big meat eating may develop uric acid, which excites the kidneys; they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood; then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleepiness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications.

public and we can certainly accommodate the furniture buyers this year."

EDUCATING PEOPLE

"Many of the gray heads in Cameron have been educated from this store," says Rush A. Thomas of the George A. Thomas and Sons drug store who have been in business more than 35 years in Cameron.

Mr. Thomas was discussing the opening of school and the big stock of school supplies to be found at this store. Each year the Thomas drug store specializes in equipment for the school children. "We have a wonderful stock," said Mr. Thomas, "and we can take care of all the needs of the children this year as has been the custom of this store for many years."

Ed. Westbrook, public weigher of Beat 7 says the cotton crop around Ben Arnold is better than any yield in recent years, in his judgment and he expects to weigh at least 2500 bales in the beat this year.

Mr. Westbrook was nominated and elected public weigher in 1924 but the crop failure of 1925 kept him from realizing any profit from his office and his friends this year hope he will make up for the losses he has taken.

At first reports from the uplands led local cotton men to believe the crop will be short. The estimate of Mr. Westbrook is encouraging. Mr. Westbrook will give the farmers of that beat the best of service this year and is to be congratulated on his interest in the work of weigher.

Tiny Finds a Way

By HOMER B. KING

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

TO BIG JIM CARNAHAN—Lippy—and Tiny Perkin, had come the parting of the ways.

It was the finding of a rich old river bed at the end of the fifty-foot tunnel they had driven into a hill that caused the trouble; after years of seeking, the possibility of sudden wealth had suddenly awakened in Lippy the devil's cupid.

Today the last of the gravel they had wheeled out was being sluiced and Carnahan had driven Tiny away, swearing he would twist his skinny old neck if he came back before the work was finished. Sneaking around through the brush, Tiny hid close to where the big fellow was working, and for two hours watched him, and before leaving he knew Carnahan was robbing him.

When Carnahan entered the cabin Tiny greeted him in his usual cheery manner.

"How'd she clean, Lippy, boy?" he chirped.

"Not much—that's all," Carnahan growled, dropping two slim buckskin dust bags on a slab table.

An hour after Carnahan took from beneath his bunk two other bags of gold dust.

"Pull up!" he ordered. "I'm going to divide what we've got."

"What's the idea, boy? Can't we do that when we get to Mt. Idaho?"

"No! We're splittin' right now."

"Why?"

"Because," Lippy rasped, thrusting his heavy face forward, "because, old man, you leave tomorrow for outside. I'm through supportin' you."

"Why, Lippy, you ain't supportin' me—our claim's more than doin' that."

Carnahan laughed shortly.

"Our claim?" he scoffed. "Ain't you woke up yet to the fact that you ain't got no claim? It's mine, old man."

After pouring half of the second bag on a piece of paper, folding it and pushing it toward Tiny, he rose, and first placing his gold beneath his jacket pillow he dropped on his bunk.

For a time Tiny sat silent. "Boy," he at last quivered, "what you've done ain't square, but I've lived a long time and seen lots of things—and understand. I've found out that gold madness is worse than most anything a man can get—and Lippy you've got it!"

"Shut up or I'll—"

"See," Tiny interrupted, "it'd make you murder your best friend. Come on, son, let's get away. We'll go down to Mt. Idaho and spend the winter."

Carnahan leaped to his feet. "Cut it, you old rat! I know what you are drivin' at—you want to get me out where you can make a fight for half of this claim. Well, you don't do it—and tomorrow you git!"

It was after midnight when Tiny, leaving Carnahan snoring loudly, slipped out and hurried up the creek to the tunnel. Lighting a stub of candle he went inside. In half an hour he found Carnahan's cache. His next move was to stick fuse into several sticks of giant. Five fuses he capped; the others he only tied to the powder and dropped them into a sack which he hung across his shoulder, leaving the fuses dangling. Next he placed two of the leaded sticks at the tunnel mouth, lighted them and ran down the creek toward the cabin.

He was still running when the explosion came and small rocks rattled about him. He heard the roar of sliding earth and knew the tunnel was no more. Next he heard Carnahan yelling his name as he ran toward him, and slipping into the brush he let him rush past. Then he ran on to the cabin.

First he took the gold from beneath Carnahan's pillow. Next he carried out their remaining grub, Carnahan's clothes and their blankets. Dividing the food he put his part into his sack; the other half he left on top of the blankets. Placing two sticks of giant in the doorway he again ran. Then came the roar and the cabin was a jumble of logs.

"Two minutes after, raging like a crazy man, Carnahan came running back, and Tiny, swinging about his head a stick of dynamite with lighted fuse, yelling like a mad man, leaped toward him.

"Git out of the way!" he screamed. "Git! I'm comin'. I'm the powder man—powder man!" he sang, and disappeared into the bush as the roar of the powder he had thrown sounded.

Lippy gave one look and ran as though devils were pursuing him.

In Mt. Idaho, two days later, Lippy, red-eyed and haggard from sleepless nights of terror, stood before Sheriff Adams.

"I tell you, sheriff," he was saying, "he's plum crazy. Poor little devil. Why, man, he done his best to blow me to smithereens with dynamite. He did blow up our tunnel and cabin. We'd made the biggest cleanup of our lives, too, and he blowed it plum to kingdom come, but—"

"Hello, Lippy—figgered I'd find you here," Tiny called from the doorway. "Beat me in by an eyelash, didn't you?"

"Look out!" Lippy yelled, dodging behind a desk. "Look out! He's got the powder in that sack! Look out!"

Tiny grinned.

"Don't get excited, sheriff. I throwed the powder away 'fore I got into town. I got suthin' better'n powder here," and he dumped on the desk six buckskin bags. "Wish you'd weigh that sheriff. Half's mine and half's Lippy's. Him and me had a little argument back at the mine. Howsomever, it's settled now, ain't it, Lippy?"

15,166,000 BALE CROP IS FORECAST

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
REPORTS CONDITIONS 59.6
PER CENT OF NORMAL

Washington, Sept. 8.—A cotton crop of 15,166,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight is indicated by the Sept. 1 condition which was 59.6 per cent of a normal, the department of agriculture announced today.

If developments during the remainder of the season are as unfavorable to the crop as in the three years of greatest decline in the last ten a total production of about 14,104,000 bales might be expected, the crop reporting board announced, but should conditions be as favorable as during the three years of greatest subsequent improvement an outturn of about 16,379,000 bales might result.

The preliminary estimate of abandonment of acreage for the season on the basis of September 1 was placed at 1,691,000 acres, or 3.5 per cent of the 48,989,000 acres in cultivation on June 25, leaving for harvest this season 47,207,000 acres.

The September 1 condition indicates a yield of 153.6 pounds per acre, as compared with 154.6 pounds a fortnight ago and 167.2 pounds the final yield last year.

A total production of 15,248,000 bales was indicated a fortnight ago in the August 16 condition, which was 63.5 per cent of a normal. Last year's crop totalled 16,103,679 bales and the September 1 condition was 56.2.

Business and Professional Women's Club

The Business and Professional Women's Club held their first meeting this season Tuesday evening in the basement of the Methodist church at 8 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Annie Stallworth.

The question of Federation was discussed but no action was taken. Mrs. Etta Ringgold, an enthusiastic member of a Federated Club, gave some interesting points on Federation.

The following were appointed on the nominating committee for the nomination of the new officers to be elected at the meeting in October: Mrs. Cora Cammer, chairman, Mrs. Myrtle McLane and Miss Wilyne Hyde.

Committee to have charge of the next month's program: Mrs. Fred Dierr, chairman, Misses Lois Burnett, Luille Butts, Helen Horstmann and Olga Marek.

Each chairman of all the committees are requested to make out a written report of their special work, to be handed in at the next month's meeting. The president has called a meeting of the Executive committee and all chairmen of the different committees to meet at her office Friday evening promptly at 6 o'clock as some important business is to be taken up.

A vote of thanks was given to the ladies of circle two of the church for the splendid luncheon served, and the past month's committee, and regret at the departure of Mrs. Ringgold who is leaving town.

In the absence of Mrs. Susie Stone who was chairman of this month's program, Mrs. Charlie Price ably presided over the social features. Miss Jennie Tyson rendered a beautiful vocal solo in her usual sweet manner, Mrs. Joe Casey presiding at the piano. A reading by Miss Dorothy Blaylock was enjoyed by all present.

Circle No. 2 served a splendid chicken dinner with ice tea, pink and white brick ice cream with white loaf cake. The table was beautifully decorated with summer flowers in vases and bowls.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea
and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Care Used In Assembling Engines

THE many parts which make up the Buick engine are shown being assembled. Each has passed through many operations and undergone exacting tests before being declared fit to go into assembly.

The pistons have been ground to limits of one thousandth of an inch and have been graded into three classes, according to whether they are a fraction above perfection, a fraction below it, or just about right.

The cylinder bores have also been accurately finished and graded in the same manner. During the assembly operation the workmen will fit certain grades of pistons to certain grades of cylinder bores, in order to get as perfect a fit as possible. This is but one example of the care taken in assembling the engine.

When completely assembled, the engines undergo a block running test of several hours duration. They are then taken to a silent room, where expert testers listen intently for any noises that would indicate imperfection at any point. Having passed these tests successfully, the engines are then moved by conveyor to another part of the factory for assembly into a car.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

On Fifteen Per Cent Bonds

Mrs. Norris beamed as she greeted Aunt Emmy and exclaimed, "Now I know all my financial worries are over! I wanted to tell you right away."

"What have you bought this time?" Aunt Emmy demanded suspiciously.

"Well, I haven't paid the money over yet, but I have found the loveliest investment where my money will be perfectly safe and will earn a nice income for me right away," Mrs. Norris said. "I'm going to buy bonds, good safe bonds, that will pay me fifteen per cent interest."

"Wait a minute, you'll have to go some, Maud Norris, to tell me about 'good safe bonds' that pay fifteen per cent!" Aunt Emmy broke in.

"They are safe,—the man said so and this booklet says so too!"

"Do you know what a bond is?" asked Aunt Emmy.

"No, but it's awfully safe. I'm sure of that," Mrs. Norris said. "Everybody knows that bonds are safe—"

"My dear, some bonds are safe and some are not. When you buy a bond you simply lend your money to the company putting out the bonds. Bond issues are secured generally by the company mortgaging or pledging some of its property. In other words, it offers a certain asset as security that it will return your money to you on the date the bond matures. It agrees to pay you a certain sum each year for the use of your money, usually something between five and eight per cent. No company can afford to pay too much for its money—and as to fifteen per cent bonds—why it would be very unusual for a company to be able to earn enough to enable it to pay fifteen per cent for the privilege of using other people's money,—moreover, if it is good enough to borrow money at all it can borrow it more cheaply than that!"

"Oh dear!" wailed Mrs. Norris. "When a bond isn't a good safe investment—"

"Don't jump at conclusions so fast!" said Aunt Emmy. "I did not say that. A bond is as safe as a church if the company that issues it is financially sound, has a high credit rating and is making money. Before you buy bonds assure yourself that the company behind them is above reproach."

"But the man who told me about these fifteen per cent bonds was so earnest—I felt sure I could believe him."

"Don't turn over any money to him until you have some advice on the bonds from your bank," admonished Aunt Emmy. "Then, if you find out that the bonds are questionable you will escape another bad investment."

WHY GOVERNMENT PRICE FIXING WON'T WORK

One of the most persistent fallacies of government price-fixing on competitive commodities. There is already government price-fixing in commodities and services where competition plays no part in price determination. These are railway transportation, electricity, gas, telephone and telegraph, and so on. Here government price-fixing is solely to protect the consumer. There are two fatal objections to government price-fixing in agricultural products, which represent the most competitive business in the world. These are, first, that it will not work; second, that it is already done for the consumer as against the producer.

Government price-fixing for agricultural products would work if at the same time the government regulated wages, profits, middlemen's margins, the production of all commodities and the rationing of all consumers. In short, if the population were enlisted in one vast army, directed and rationed, price-fixing would work, but otherwise not. If the price is fixed on the wheat the farmer sells, then he cannot keep on producing wheat if the cost of harvesting machinery rises, or if the cost of other material he buys rises. So the next step would be the fixation of other prices, and yet other prices.

The United States government fixed the price of wheat but once in our history, and then it was to benefit consumers, not producers. The government might, in an emergency, fix some agricultural prices for the purpose of elevating such prices. Such actions would inevitably and speedily result in outcry from city consumers and a consequent reversal of policy. Indeed, the consumers, not the producers, are most likely to demand and secure food price regulation by government authorities. The farmer, therefore, who favors any form of governmental price-fixing is working against his own interests. He is putting his head into a noose.—James E. Boyce, Professor of Rural Economics, Cornell University, in the Banker.

Platform As Drafted For Submission to Democratic Party's State Convention

Editor's Note—On account of the length of the platform we cannot publish all of it but will publish the concluding planks next week. The Herald at all times gives to its readers all possible information even though at expense and time beyond the ordinary.

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 7.—Following is a full draft of the platform drafted for submission to the convention. The general impression is that it came almost direct from the hands of Dan Moody, the nominee for governor.

It appears to be a very clear outline of Moody's views on government. Especially interest centers in the declaration against the Ku Klux Klan in politics.

Draft of Platform.

The democratic party of Texas in convention assembled reaffirms its devotion to the ancient tenets of the party, the ideals of personal and political freedom responsible for its long life and the principles of free government of the state and of the United States. We point with pride to the traditions of the democratic party, the record it has made whenever interested with the conduct of the national government and its record in the administration of state affairs in Texas.

The democratic party now declares for the principle of equal, exact and impartial justice to all men under the constitution and the laws for equality of opportunity to every citizen within the land, regardless of race, religious belief or place of birth. For the support of the state government in all its rights, with careful protection of the principle of local self government; for the principle of the sovereignty of the states of this republic; for the preservation and support of the general government in its constitutional vigor, with jealous regard for the separation of the functions assigned to the United States and the states, respectively; for strong state government, which shall be maintained independently, within constitutional limitations, without undue federal interferences; for co-operation with the federal government wherever concurrent power is reposed in the states and in the United States; for comity among the several states in accordance with the law and long established principles governing their relations with each other.

Election Safeguards.
We believe in a jealous care for the right of election by the people, and acquiescence of the majority. We believe in the fostering and encouragement of public education, that information may be diffused generally among the citizenship. We reaffirm our belief in the supremacy of the civil over the military authority. We especially declare for honesty, and for the most rigid economy in the public expense consistent with the efficient administration of government; for the honest payment of the public debts and the sacred preservation of the public facts. We favor the encouragement of agriculture and the development of the resources of our state.

Freedom of Religion.

We declare for freedom of religion, freedom of the press, and freedom of the person, under the guarantees made secure by the bill of rights and the constitution, and for the preservation of property rights and the enforcement of the law through its regular and orderly processes. We believe that the purpose of government can be better attained through a few wise laws wisely and justly administered than through the regulation of every detail of human conduct by statutory enactment.

We believe that the happiness, peace and prosperity of the citizenship is best promoted and best secured by a "wise and frugal government which shall restrain men from injuring one another, shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits, industries and improvements, and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread which it has earned."

The democratic party stands opposed to any form of despotic or tyrannical government and believes that the security of liberty and free government is best protected by encouraging respect for and obedience of the constitution of the state and nation. We stand opposed to the centralization of power, either in Washington or Austin, as contrary to the principles of democracy and as calculated to destroy representative government and create waste and extravagance, believing that the maintenance of our free institutions and the perpetuity of the Union and our liberty depend upon the right of local self-government.

Nature of Public Office.

We hold that public office is a public trust, and that public officers who have no more power than is granted to them by the constitution and the law are the servants and not the masters of the people with whose government they are entrusted. All public office holders should make the constitution the touchstone of their official acts, and they should neither claim nor attempt to exercise any greater authority than is conferred upon them under the constitution and the statutes enacted pursuant thereto. In the administration of governmental affairs full recognition should be given to the authority of its 3 co-ordinate and distinct departments of government, and the principle of their independence should be in all things recognized and respected.

Public officers should be protected in the discharge of their duties from the use of influence by members of or officers of the same departments; and the members of one department of the government should not seek, for private purposes, to influence the conduct of members of another department, or of other divisions of the same department. To this end we believe the legislature should enact a law forbidding public officers from representing, for hire or compensation, corporate or individual interests which may have business with any department of the state government.

Responsible Government.

We declare as a principle of the democratic party and as fundamental to free government that the power of public office shall be entrusted to the hands of none but the public official chosen in the manner and form provided by law and accountable to the people and to the law for the manner in which the affairs of office are administered. Therefore the democratic government believes in responsible government by duly and legally elected and appointed governmental officials accountable to the people for the manner in which they exercise the powers of office, and accountable to the law for any violation of the public trust reposed in the office which they hold. We deprecate the delegation of official power to private persons, not holding public office, as contrary to the principles of the democratic party, as opposed to the fundamental ideas of free government, as contrary to the spirit and genius of the constitution, and in derogation of the public weal. And we believe that all people believing in free government must recognize that a situation which permits a private citizen, without accountability to the people or the law, to hold and exer-

Pet Wolf Attacks Child; Winnifred Alford, Two Year Old Child, Taken To Hospital Suffering Lacerations About Face

Little two year old Winnifred Alford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monk Alford of Cameron, is in the Cameron Hospital suffering from lacerations of the head and face as the result of an attack made on her Monday morning by a pet wolf in the yard of the Alford home in this city.

The children were playing in the yard as they had been doing ever since the wolf became their pet. The small child, it is thought irritated the wolf and angered it to the point of attack. It had been considered harmless and was made a pet, being captured when quite young in the hill country.

The wolf's teeth tore away flesh from the head of the child tearing an ear and lacerating terribly the flesh of the mouth and about the nose.

Rushed to the hospital, it is said that about 100 stitches were taken in the wounds. Dr. Newton kept the child on the operating table for one hour in a successful effort to save its life. It is said the child will recover. When taken to the hospital, grave fears were held for its recovery but it was found that none of the veins or arteries were cut.

An anti lock jaw serum was given. It is not believed that the wolf has rabies although it is understood that theory will be determined.

The many friends of Little Winnifred and her parents are anxious for her recovery. Mr. Alford is a world war veteran and is with the Schumacher Wholesale Company in Cameron.

cise the power of public office, makes way for some despot to seize the reins of empire, and when carried to its logical end means the destruction of free government and the liberty of the citizens.

Expenditures of Public Funds.

The people have no security that their tax money will be honestly and economically expended, except in the fidelity of their public officials. When officers of government are by law made the custodians of public funds or intrusted with the power to incur liability against the public treasury, they occupy a fiduciary relation to the State of Texas and the people thereof, and are invested by the special trust and confidence that their powers shall be exercised by a due regard for economy and efficiency and that they shall not authorize the payment of any sum of money from the treasury except for value received and as a reasonable compensation for (continued on page 8, this section)

HONESTY AND SUCCESS

The opinion is sometimes expressed that a person can not be strictly honest and yet succeed in business. A different view was taken at the conference on human relations in industry, at Silver Bay, New York by Dr. Hutchins, president of Berea College. He felt that the crooked man fails in business, because the world is fundamentally straight.

Plenty of instances can be found of people who have amassed fortunes by crooked performances. And yet if the people who have got money in such crooked ways, were to loose their fortunes, and apply for jobs in standard business houses, and if their record was known, they would find it almost impossible to obtain work.
The people who have established a reputation do not wish to prejudice it by allying themselves with those who have shown themselves yellow.

It is a very difficult proposition for people to build up a business on any crooked lines. Their deceptions are found out, and people will not patronize them.

Where people do make money
crookedly, it is not through well established lines of business, but by putting over frauds on inexperienced people. A new sucker is said to be born every minute and as long as this is so,
a good many people will think it profitable to catch them. But a large part of these smart folks land in jail in due time, and even if they do not, they create a reputation for dishonest-ty which hurts them with the business world.

The great mass of the people are not going to be fooled, or tolerate those who put things over on them.
They may be fooled once or twice but they learn from such experiences, and they do business thereafter with those who give people their money's worth.

MORAL DISARMAMENT

The United States government has made somewhat persistent efforts to promote the cause of disarmament throughout the world, and induce the powers that have burdened themselves with enormously expensive armies and navies to get along with less of such armed force.

The Washington conference called 1921 accomplished much good along this line, and yet its results were much limited and agreements for the reduction of armament were made on only a few things. That left the nations free to go ahead and build types of equipment not covered by this agreement, so that the burden of the armament still continues very heavy and it is a menace to peace.

The effort of the United States government in such peaceful directions has not had much effect so far, owing to what may be called the need for moral disarmament. Nations and peoples need to reach a more peaceful state of mind before much real disarmament can take place.

As long as they feel so much hate for their neighbors and fear them so much, they are not going to cut down their defensive armor a great way.
The problem then is, as to how they can be induced to disarm morally by regarding their neighbors more peacefully.

While the United States is well removed from this scene of strife, it might be drawn in if a new war broke out again.

In our country we too can help the cause of moral disarmament, by not encouraging war sores, and by cherishing the idea that the rest of the countries of the world want peace too. Of course our people can not shut their eyes if real preparations for war should be going on, but when they see warlike purposes where none exist, they help keep the war spirit going.

AUTOMOBILE PRODUCTION

The first six months of 1926 set a new high record in American automobile production, a total of 2,176,281 passenger cars and 272,903 trucks having been turned out during that period. The way the automobile business has kept up and increased is something that could not have been foreseen a few years ago. At that time it was claimed by many that a "saturation point" would be soon reached so that the industry would have to slow up. But the capacity of the American people to buy automobiles has gone far beyond expectations.

Also the use of automobiles is spreading rapidly in many parts of the world. These foreign nations with relatively few cars furnish a vast potential market for machines. As they recover from the war, and the more backward nations advance in civilization, they will buy automobiles in vast numbers, and American cars will take the lead in supplying this demand.

The greatly increased use of machinery in the industries is increasing production, which tends to increase prosperity and the ability of the common run of people to buy things which 10 years ago they never thought of having.

The use of automobiles is leading more people to settle in suburban and country sections where they can have pleasant homes and yet work in near by cities and towns. Many of these people save enough in rent to pay for their cars, or their cars may cost them no more than trolley or train fares.

There is nothing to indicate that any saturation point for cars has yet been reached, and millions of families who do not now own them, will probably acquire them within a few years.
While many people may spend extravagantly on them, they produce more health and contentment and give people wider opportunities.

TREE PLANTING TIME

The autumn months are called a favorable time to set out trees, and householders might well look their grounds over and see if a little more shade would not beautify their homes.
Also streets without handsome tree foliage do not come up to modern standards.

Many people look too much to public appropriations to accomplish these results, when they should take hold and do them themselves. On bare looking streets in many towns, land would be worth twice as much as it is now, if some years ago trees had been set out.

But instead the people waited for someone to do it for them, and as a result the improvements were not made, and such neighborhoods have often developed in a ragged way that may prove permanent.

THE NEWSBOY'S EXAMPLE

Circulation men on newspapers will tell you there is much difference between newsboys who sell papers on the street. Some are quiet little fellows who may be faithful enough, but they lack the push to call out their newspapers, and they do not attract enough attention to sell any.

And then there are those who throw their whole energy into the effort to sell their copies, and the street re-sounds with their cheerful and ringing cries. People naturally like to buy of these fellows.

This comparison goes up into the business world. The merchant who does not believe in advertising is like the boy who never calls out his papers, while the one who advertises vastly increases his sales, like the cheerful youngster whose activity and enterprise win interest.

COMPETITION IN WORDS

One who goes into the market to buy a motor car today is naturally confused.

He has read the words best and greatest so often that they have ceased to be convincing. Where all is best, he reflects, there can be no best.

Thousand-dollar cars have been described to him in ten-thousand dollar language. And vice versa.

He finds himself the target in a war of adjectives; the helpless victim in a gigantic competition of words.

And so he is forced to rely on chance—the advice of friends—or his own limited experience.

Dodge Brothers, Inc., have never participated in this verbal competition.

They are content with the position they have long maintained in the far more vital competition of honest value.

They have continued steadily to improve their product, not only in comfort and beauty, but basically—beneath the body and hood where fundamental values lie.

Yet they have not unduly stressed each betterment that has marked the steady progress of their motor car toward a higher perfection.

And when economic conditions or greater sales have permitted them to reduce prices without reducing quality, they have announced the fact without excessive emphasis.

Unexaggerated truth is not spectacular. But in the long run, implicit public confidence has been Dodge Brothers reward, and this they propose to preserve forever
by continuing to build just a little better than they tell.

1,000 More Cars A Day Is Plan Of Chevrolet Company

"Marked by an enthusiastic optimism over the prospects of increasing Chevrolet sales by 1,000 more cars per day during the coming year, more than 1000 members of the company's sales force who supervise 8500 Chevrolet dealers, closed a four days convention in Detroit August 26, held for the purpose of formulating plans for 1927 sales," says Joe Middleton, manager of the Cameron Chevrolet Company.

"From every division of the company—sales-advertising-parts and service and engineering came technical experts who contributed their specialized knowledge to the convention, held in the magnificent new Masonic Temple auditorium, the largest of its kind in the middle West.

"As a result the delegates left for their zones Friday with a profound conviction that the additional cars the company will be enabled to build under a $10,000,000 expansion program inaugurated June 1 of this year will be marketed through increased efficiency in sales methods.

"Throughout the sessions of the convention, which opened Monday, August 23, R. H. Grant, general sales manager, stressed the necessity of hard and intelligent effort during the coming year to merchandise the enormously increased production.

"Over-optimism is to be avoided," said Mr. Grant. "These additional 1000 cars per day will be sold only by the most vigorous sales effort by our immense dealer organization throughout the United States. The company will adhere with determination to its policy of constantly incorporating in a low-priced car every quality feature that contributes easy riding, smooth operation and notable economy of operation."

"In a press interview during the convention, W. S. Knudsen, president of the company, declared the European small car, was not destined to figure prominently in the American market because of the limitations of this type of car.

"Not one of the European cars that comes under the head of 'small' would satisfy American requirements," he said. "Some of these machines have as many as four forward speeds and gear shifting is resorted to on its slightest hill.

"The American driver in many cases uses only second and high gears when his car has once warmed up. Power with him is one of the essentials—and that is not to be found in the small combustion engine designed for peculiar European conditions. He dislikes a car with an engine that forces him to shift gears when the motor is required to exert power. No small car made in Europe compares favorably with American small types for speed, endurance, power, comfort and luxury. Nor do I believe that an American car, patterned after the European car, will satisfy."

"The convention marked the height of the greatest sales activities in the history of the Chevrolet Motor Company during its phenomenal growth to the largest manufacturer of gear shift cars in the world.

"Four special trains brought members of the field sales force to Detroit from four important centers: Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati & New York where the men gathered from sales zones in the east, south and west.

"Besides the men from the 32 sales zones of the company, prominent officials of the General Motors Corporation, the General Motors Acceptance Corporation, the Chevrolet Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., and other subsidiaries of the General Motors were at the meeting.

"At the opening session R. H. Grant, general sales manager of the company gave the keynote of the convention, "1000 more cars per day." His address was heard by a sales organization serving more than 8,500 Chevrolet dealers and included regional and zone managers, division representatives and sales promotional and service promotional representatives.

"Mr. Grant stressed the recent accelerated development of the company which he said "made it possible for Chevrolet to set up the most remarkable sales and production record of any maker of gear shift cars." He outlined to the delegates the part each member of the sales organization was to play in merchandising the tremendous increase planned in production. He told also of the service to be rendered dealers through national and local advertising campaigns under the Chevrolet co-operative advertising system.

"Tuesday sessions were devoted to talks by officials and department heads of the company. Every graphic aid that would bring home forcibly to the convention the plans of the company was used during these sessions.

Wednesday delegates transferred their sessions afloat to the Steamer Tashmoo for an all day ride on Lake St. Claire, the St. Claire river and the Detroit river. Thursday was devoted to an inspection trip to the Chevrolet factories at Flint and to the 1125 acre proving ground of the General Motors Corporation at Milford, Michigan. Both trips were made by special trains which returned the delegates to Detroit in the evening in time to entrain for their homes."

CATHOLIC PRIEST IN VIRGINIA KIDNAPPED BY A WHITE ROBED BAND

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 3.—Investigation of the reported kidnapping of the Rev. Vincent D. Warren of St. Joseph's Catholic church here by a band of 28 masked and white robed men in Princess Anne county Wednesday night probably will be made by Governor Harry F. Bird as the result of the failure of county officials and grand jury to act because of lack "tangible clues."

Father Warren said he was seized while seated in an automobile with two men companions, taken out of town and released in swamp lands after having been questioned by his abductors, particularly regarding his activities as a director of the St. Joseph's Academy for negro boys. He said that he was not harmed and walked several miles back to Norfolk after being released. He could not identify any members of the hooded group.

FLOGGING OF GIRLS CLIMAXES SERIES OF VIRGINIA OUTRAGES

Bristol, Va., Sept.—Another mysterious kidnapping—this one of two young women who said they had been taken three miles out of Bristol and whipped severely with leather straps—was added today to the series of similar incidents already under investigation in Virginia.

The girls, Blanche Stone, 22, and Lilly Frick, 24, exhibiting welts which they told police had been raised on their backs by the whipping, said they had been forced in an automobile, driven to an abandoned residence three miles away, strapped and then taken to the roadside and ordered to walk back to town.

Both reside here and were on their way home when accosted at 9:30 p. m. They did not recognize any of their three assailants, but gave detailed descriptions. The girls are prominent here and could advance no theory for the whipping, but indicated that they may make arrests within 24 hours. Chief of Police Heaberlin declared that "evidently strong boys beat the girls, judging the welts."

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

Every Community is Known by its Utilities

WHEN A stranger comes to town all he has to do is to use his eyes and his intelligence to know what kind of a town it is. If he finds modern electric lights and abundant electric power, he knows that here is a wide-awake, prosperous, progressive community. If he doesn't find these things, no amount of verbal "boosting" is going to convince him that this town is a desirable place in which to live and work and invest his money. For he realizes that a prosperous, growing electric light and power system means a prosperous, growing community, made up of broad minded, progressive citizens.

American public services are the envy of the world, because it is here that the greatest progress has been made in their development. Electric light and power, electric transportation, the telephone and telegraph, in fact all of the utility services except gas, originated in the minds of inventive Americans. As general public servants they have become every-day necessities of modern life. They brighten and accelerate all social, commercial and industrial activity.

Your Electric Lighting system is an invaluable asset to your community, and as such it is regarded by every thoughtful citizen. You are a partner in it. Keep it prosperous and expanding as you would any other business in which you have an interest.

50c To Register A Ford

Here's the record for low fee registration on a Ford Touring Car. But it was back in 1914, in fact on March 11, 1914 in Leon county and the proud owner of that juggernaut of the road was J. H. DuBois of Cameron. The registration number was 53.

Mr. DuBois has the receipt of registration issued to him on that date. He had purchased a Ford Touring car from the dealer for $625. It was registered at Centerville the county seat of Leon county. Mr. DuBois resided at Normangee.

The registration receipt bears the notation that it was authorized by act of the legislature of 1907. B. T. Gresham was county clerk and still holds that office.

There was one of those brass adorned aristocrats of the road as some will recall those days. Mr. DuBois says he was pulled out of mud holes with oxen in almost every section of Leon county that spring in 1914 he set forth to make the rounds in that car.

It is interesting to note that the registration receipt says that the numbers on the car "must be at least 6 inches high." At that time the state did not furnish number plates. Mr. DuBois had his plate made at Normangee. It costs over $11 to register a Ford Touring car now.

CHANGES ARE MADE IN LONG DISTANCE RATES

LONG DISTANCE CHARGES REDUCED—MANAGER ANNOUNCES—EFFECTIVE OCT. 1

Readjustment of long-distance telephone rates throughout the county was announced Tuesday by F. M. Hoag, general manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, who Wednesday becomes Southwest commercial manager. The new rates will be effective October 1.

Rates that have prevailed after midnight will be available after 8:30 p. m. and rates that have heretofore been granted between 8:30 p. m. and midnight will be available between 7 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Another feature will be that tolls may be reserved on a station-to station call upon acceptance.

The greatest saving to the public will be over the longest distances. To make the new schedule conform rates will be slightly advanced on shorter distances.

On the basis of existing loads for specific periods a saving of about $3,000,000 a year will be apparent for the public, Mr. Hoag announced. At the same time, the readjustment is expected to increase the volume of telephone business.

Within Texas reduced rates will apply for calls over 100 miles or more. Outside the State's boundaries the revision will begin on calls covering 150 miles or more. Discounts will apply where the station to station rate is 40c or more with a minimum reduced rate of 35c.—Cameron Enterprise.

If Kidneys and Bladder Bother

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast; continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia water drink, which often quickly relieves bladder irritation.

MOODY IS DECLARED NOMINEE

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 6.—Attorney General Dan Moody was declared by the Texas democratic executive committee the democratic nominee for governor by the official count of 495,723 votes, over Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, who polled a total of 270,595.

The committee also declared that Claude Pollard of Houston, was nominated for attorney general, having received a vote of 360,082, according to the official count, the figures of the Texas election bureau being accepted as official for those counties which had failed to report. James V. Allred of Wichita Falls received 356,036.

W. Gregory Hatcher for treasurer was declared the nominee with 409,829 votes compared to 280,551 received by J. R. Ball of Bonham.

The committee unanimously recommended that Harry N. Graves of Taylor, be selected as the next democratic executive committeeman to succeed A. R. Eidson of Hamilton.

In expressing his gratitude to the committee for setting aside $150 to buy a watch for "his faithful, honest, fair and efficient service as chairman," Mr. Eidson said, "there is a vast difference between us democrats. We don't see alike. We all think we are right."

"Governor Miriam A. Ferguson was the best governor Texas has had in a long time. The people of Texas elected Dan Moody their governor because they like him and because they believe he has a future.

"The people have spoken and Dan Moody is my governor and we will do everything in our power to make him a successful and constructive administration."

Moody attended the committee meeting and Eidson addressed himself to Moody when he spoke. Eidson said he did not want the watch but love and asked that a ring instead of a watch be given him.

The committee on accounts reported $4463 in the treasury and the executive committee voted to pay Dick Fleming, secretary $3000 for his services.

THORNDALE HOT WELL. 'TO BE HEALTH CENTER'

WOULD MAKE GREAT CENTER
FOR HEALTH AND RECREA-TION SAY PROMOTERS

An effort is to be made to make the hot sulphur well at Thorndale a health center and already promoters are behind the project.

At Rockdale and Thorndale men are interested and the commercial organizations of those cities are behind the proposition.

M. K. Culver was in Cameron Monday and while here discussed the great possibilities of the well. It is a promising great industry and well as blessing to Milam County and the world. If its health giving properties are brought under control so as to be applicable to the human body Milam county will be the center for a natural sanitarium.

In discussing the well and the proposed organization Mr. Culver said: "First—The baths will be strictly a cash business with a nominal charge for each bath taken.

"Second—A very low running expense compared to any other business, taking into consideration help required, upkeep, etc.

"Third—The location. The company has purchased five acres from Charles Moerbe. This is high ground with shade trees growing on it and bordering on the main highway, making an ideal location for the baths and free tourist park. The new state highway, work on which has already commenced, is going to be one of the shortest routes between St. Louis and Laredo. Another highway has been designated from Elgin to Cameron, coming thru Thorndale. Truly a wonderful location for the baths, isn't it?

"Fourth—Public approval. Good health is the most precious of all our blessings. People will go to the ends of the earth in search of it. Anything that will relieve suffering and promote good health has the public approval and this public good will is the greatest asset any business can have.

"Fifth—A business with a future. As a well known doctor says: "Such a merited water is bound to develop a sanitarium."

"As most successful businesses are built up one step at a time, so these baths will be the first step and will be allowed to pay their way from the beginning.

"The plans call for a main office and rest room building including an attendant's room. There will be a wing extending from each side of the main building, each containing four baths. One wing will be for men and the other for women. There will be both shower baths and tub baths.

"A free tourist park will be provided which will make it very inviting for autoists to stop. Think of the free advertising the baths will get from these tourists who come from all parts of the country.

"The baths, therefore, have two appeals. As an investment they will be a money maker, but more than that it is an investment that is a real benefit to humanity. Hundreds of busy men and women in this territory will welcome these health baths who cannot take time out to go to a distant health resort. Then there are hundreds of people who cannot afford the heavy expense of getting relief at distant health resorts, who can take advantage of this wonderful hot medical water.

"Think of investing in a business that the boll weevil, the cotton flea, droughts or floods will not effect. Good health is of first importance to all of us; we must have it. People in poor health do not wait until another year for relief.

"Every hot mineral water resort in the country whose water really has curative qualities and is favorably located is proving to be a regular gold mine to its owners. Why won't this Milam County hot mineral well with an analysis surpassed by none, backed by wonderful testimonials and a location that will be reached from all directions by State Highways, prove to be equally as profitable in both wealth and health?

"This is a wonderful opportunity for a safe investment in a proven, money making business that will get better and better as time goes on.

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

A few cents buy a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel.

Overdoing?

Hurry, Worry and Overwork Bring Heavy Strain.

MODERN life throws a heavy burden on our bodily machinery. The eliminative organs, especially the kidneys, are apt to become sluggish. Retention of excess uric acid and other poisonous waste often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning perfectly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. More and more people are learning to assist their kidneys by the occasional use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Ask your neighbor!

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

TO ELECT SUNDAY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT WEDNESDAY THE EIGHTH

Our Sunday School Superintendent is elected to serve for twelve months. He is elected each year in September, and takes up his responsibilities the first of October.

Last Wednesday night Mr. S. M. Burns, Mrs. Wm. Henderson and Mr. J. C. Martin were appointed as a committee to work with the pastor in naming some one for this responsible place. That committee will make its report Wednesday night. Let us pray that God's man will be found for this place.

After the Superintendent is elected by the church, he and the pastor are then a nominating committee to name the departmental Superintendents. After they have been named and elected they then with the pastor and Superintendent are the nominating committee for the teachers and officers in the various departments.

No class committee should take the matter up with any individual about teaching their class with out first talking with the Superintendent of their department, general Superintendent and the pastor, who at this time in the organization compose the regulations under which we are working.

Let everyone be much in prayer that God will have his way in the selecting of every teacher and officer.

MRS. S. M. BURNS, JR., TO LEAD THE WOMEN

Last Monday afternoon in the regular business meeting of the women they went into the election of their officers. Mrs. S. M. Burns was heartily and unanimously elected as the president. This is a very responsible place since the women of our church make up a very large part of the working force of the church, and since they have various lines of activities that they carry on under their own directions. Mrs. Burns follows in the train of some very capable and efficient leaders, for the ladies from year to year having a goodly number of capable leaders to select from, have chosen women of ability and with their splendid spirit of co-operation they have gone on from victory to victory. And we congratulate them on their wisdom on selecting Mrs. Burns to lead them for the next year.

The other officers are: Secretary, Mrs. Bertha Brewer; Treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Henley; Young People's Leader, Mrs. Elbert Martin; Personal Service chairman, Mrs. J. B. White. With this splendid group of officers to fill these responsible places we may rightly expect great things of the women.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR NEXT SUNDAY

Our Sunday School teachers always have a wonderful opportunity to impart the word of God, but next Sunday they have a wonderful lesson to teach. If the teachers could get it into their hearts that they are rendering a real service to their pupils when they teach them to give as God teaches they should. They would find real joy in teaching next Sunday's lesson. The daily readings for this week are wonderful. Let's adopt God's way and take Him as a partner and remember that He says, "If ye sow sparingly ye shall reap sparingly."

LADIES TO OBSERVE WEEK OF PRAYER

It is the custom of the Baptist women of the South, three times each to observe a week of prayer. Beginning next week they are to observe the week of prayer for State Missions. Monday afternoon they meet in their circles as is announced in another place in this issue, but after that they meet at three-thirty at the church for their regular program.

We are confident that while the women meet to pray for State Missions and the cause of our Lord over the State, they will not forget our local work. Many unsaved people in our community, many homes are unhappy, many souls are lost, many lives are wasted, all of these call for our prayers and we remember that "Prayer changes things."

A FALL CLEAN-UP TO CONTROL INSECTS

By R. R. Reppert, Entomologist
A. & M. College.

Attention to the farmers of Texas should at this time be directed to an important means of reducing insect injury to the crop of 1927. The damage done by insect pests of various kinds, and to the several crops during the season just passed will make the following suggestions especially timely.

Not all of our insect pests are easily destroyed by seasonable control measures. Boll worms, for instance, at the time their presence is usually observed have passed the stage at which poison is greatly effective against them. Poisoning the boll weevil is expensive and not always effective. Harlequin cabbage bugs and squash bugs are resistant to contrary sprays. In the case of many insects easily controlled by insecticides, often a cheaper and more practical means of control lies in the application of cultural measures.

The effect of cultural measures in this respect depends upon some habit of the insect to be controlled. The cabbage bug and the squash bug must pass the cold season under trash and during the warmer season must feed continuously upon the particular plants adopted to them. The boll weevil feeds only upon cotton, and must feed continually upon this until the plant is killed by frost. The boll worm, as cold weather approaches, makes a protective cell from two to five inches beneath the soil surface where it spends the winter. So far as investigations have progressed, it appears that the cotton flea itself dies, but leaves its eggs inserted in the bark of the cotton plant, goatwood, or horse-mint, and possibly other plants, where it rests over winter and hatches the following spring.

Mention cannot be made of the habits of many other pests, but enough has been said to give weight to the suggestion that all crop residues be plowed under deeply as soon as the crop is harvested. It removes the plants also in which over-wintering eggs of some pests may be deposited, and if plowing is done sufficiently deep, resting forms of such pests as the boll worm are killed during the winter weather extremes.

A statewide campaign on the part of the farmers is urged by the Extension Service, having as its object the deep plowing under of all crop residues, followed by frequent harrowing at intervals during the winter to keep down weed growth, and the burning of trash and leaves along fences and ditches in midwinter. To burn crop residues on the field, however, impoverishes the soil and is not advised.

As the effectiveness of a fall clean-up increases with the earliness with which it is completed, a state-wide campaign is being urged to accomplish its results at once.

services performed or materials furnished. Where the authorization of expenditures for public purposes necessarily involves discretion on the part of public officers, such discretion is to be exercised in the interest of the people of the state and we condemn extravagance in the use of public funds and the abuse of discretion in regard to the expenditure thereof. The democratic party takes the position that for every dollar of public money expended a dollar of value should be received. The officers of government should administer their respective offices without regard to personal obligation and without regard of personal favoritism, and we condemn the practice of using the power of public political friends, or the punishment of personal or political enemies as contrary to the principles of democracy and as against the best interests of the people.

Civil Service.

We believe that those who direct governmental policies should be responsive to public opinion, that appointive heads of departments should be subject to change with changing administrations, and only those whose political views are in line with the prevailing popular will should formulate the policies controlling the operations of government. This principle, however, does not extend to subordinate employees, and particularly to those places under the government requiring technical knowledge and skill, and we believe that greater efficiency in the administration of the government would be insured through the appointment of a classified civil service unit which should protect technical experts in the service of the state and subordinate employees, by securing their tenure through changing administrations. The use of political appointees and state employees by public officials as a political machine is a wicked and pernicious practice, which the democratic party condemns and we believe that a classified civil service act would protect the public from such attempts to construct political machines.

State Enforcement—Pardons.

The democratic party declares that this government is one of laws, to be administered according to the constitution and the statutes, through the orderly processes prescribed by the people and the legislature. The protection of the people and of their persons and property lies only in the enforcement of the law regulating the conduct of persons and corporations. A large statute book does not necessarily denote wholesome and well administered laws. To keep the law respected the law must be kept respectable. We favor the correction of defects in existing laws, the repeal of such laws as may have become useless and antiquated, and stand for the fair and impartial enforcement of all laws. We stand for the court house and the regularly selected officers of the law as the proper place and the proper persons to enforce the law, and we are unalterably opposed to mob violence in the name of the law enforcement. We believe that one of the duties of good citizenship is to maintain and support the officers of the law in their efforts at its enforcement. We assure all men that in Texas there is justice and equality before the law; that personal rights and property rights are maintained and made safe within her borders by a just enforcement of the law, and that peace and quiet is made secure through a general confidence in the public respect for the laws of the land.

We believe that the provision in the constitution placing the pardon power in the chief executive is a wise provision of the constitution, but we are opposed to the indiscriminate use of that power. We believe that the practice of granting pardons in great numbers to convicted criminals hinders the proper enforcement of our criminal laws by discouraging the efforts of our peace officers and prosecuting attorneys and creating a disfavor in the jury box toward convictions. We believe in the reasonable exercise of the pardoning power, and that applications for pardons should be considered only upon their merits. A primary duty of the chief executive is to cause the laws to be faithfully executed, and we do not believe that a too liberal exercise of the pardoning power is consistent with the discharge of the constitutional duty. We, therefore, call upon the chief executive to exercise discretion in the use of the pardoning power and to see that this prerogative is exercised consistently with the proper enforcement of the law and not in such a manner as to menace the enforcement of the law, work a danger to society generally, and constitute a thrust at our system of administering justice.

Prohibition.

The settled policy of this state looks to the destruction of the traffic in alcoholic liquors. We call upon all officers of the government to support this settled policy by personal and public conduct. We submit to the liberty loving and law abiding citizens of this state that no law can be ignored except at the cost of public integrity, and that the disobedience of any law by common consent of the general public, if carried to its original conclusion, would establish a precedent that might be pleaded in defense of anarchy. We therefore call upon the citizenship of this state to show respect for and obedience to all law.

We are opposed to any repeal or modification of our existing statutes prohibiting the traffic in alcoholic liquors, and we favor the fair, rigid and impartial enforcement of these laws and all other laws.

Official Salaries.

The salaries now provided by law for many of our public officials are incommensurate with the dignity of the office, and almost bar from public office citizens not possessed of independent wealth. Provision should be made by the legislature and the people for adequate compensation for the officers of state government. However, by means of fees provided by law, the compensation of some officers is in excess of a fair compensation, and further provision should be made by the legislature for the payment of such excessive fees into the public treasury.

We are opposed to the creation of additional government bureaus and commissions which involve new burdens upon the public revenue. Whenever additional governmental duties are undertaken, they should be assigned to existing departments and provision should be made by the exacting of fees from persons and corporations affected to make self supporting any such governmental activities as may be hereafter undertaken.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Winfield moved into their attractive bungalow recently completed this week. It is a carefully planned bungalow with broad porches and so constructed as to be comfortable at all seasons. Mr. J. A. Walston was the contractor and he used diligence to make the home equal to the expectation of the owners and succeeded admirably. All modern conveniences and built-in features lend to the comforts and attractions of this charming new home. The interior decoration and outside finish are pleasing to the eye and many friends are congratulating the happy owners, Mr. and Mrs. Winfield and their little son, Samuel, upon the opening of this beautiful new home in Cameron.

Miss Mabel Wade has entered Byrne's Business and Commercial College in Dallas and is making splendid progress in her course.
